Features, Magic Items and Spells

Mountain Dwarf Traits

Darkvision

Accustomed to life underground, you have superior vision in dark and dim conditions. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light. You can't discern color in darkness, only shade of gray.

Dwarven Resilience

You have advantage on saving throws against poison, and you have resistance against poison damage.

Dwarven Combat Training

You have proficiency with the battleaxe, handaxe, light hammer, and warhammer.

Dwarven Armor Training

You have proficiency with light and medium armor

Stonecunning

Whenever you make an Intelligence (History) check related to the origin of stonework, you are considered proficient in the History skill and add double your proficiency bonus to the check, instead your normal proficiency bonus.

Feats

Savage Attacker

You've trained to deal particularly damaging strikes. Once per turn when you hit a target with a weapon, you can roll the weapon's damage dice twice and use either roll against the target.

Defense (Fighting Style)

While you're wearing Light, Medium, or Heavy armor, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor Class.

Fighter Traits

Fighting Style

Defense
You have honed your martial prowess and gain a Fighting Style feat of your choice. Defense is recommended.

Whenever you gain a Fighter level, you can replace the feat you chose with a different Fighting Style feat.

Second Wind

2 Uses, Regain 1d10 + 2
You have a limited well of physical and mental stamina that you can draw on. As a Bonus Action, you can use it to regain Hit Points equal to 1d10 plus your Fighter level.

You can use this feature twice. You regain one expended use when you finish a Short Rest, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Long Rest.

When you reach certain Fighter levels, you gain more uses of this feature, as shown in the Second Wind column of the Fighter Features table.

Weapon Mastery

Your training with weapons allows you to use the mastery properties of three kinds of Simple or Martial weapons of your choice. Whenever you finish a Long Rest, you can practice weapon drills and change one of those weapon choices.

When you reach certain Fighter levels, you gain the ability to use the mastery properties of more kinds of weapons, as shown in the Weapon Mastery column of the Fighter Features table.

Sap (Morning Star)

If you hit a creature with this weapon, that creature has Disadvantage on its next attack roll before the start of your next turn.

Vex (Handaxe / Shortbow)

If you hit a creature with this weapon and deal damage to the creature, you have Advantage on your next attack roll against that creature before the end of your next turn.

Action Surge

You can push yourself beyond your normal limits for a moment. On your turn, you can take one additional action, except the Magic action.

Once you use this feature, you can't do so again until you finish a Short or Long Rest. Starting at level 17, you can use it twice before a rest but only once on a turn.

Tactical Mind

You have a mind for tactics on and off the battlefield. When you fail an ability check, you can expend a use of your Second Wind to push yourself toward success. Rather than regaining

Hit Points, you roll 1d10 and add the number rolled to the ability check, potentially turning it into a success. If the check still fails, this use of Second Wind isn't expended.

Warlock Traits

Eldritch Invocations

Pact of the Blade
You have unearthed Eldritch Invocations, pieces of forbidden knowledge that imbue you with an abiding magical ability or other lessons. You gain one invocation of your choice, such as Pact of the Tome. Invocations are described in the "Eldritch Invocation Options" section later in this class's description.

Prerequisites. If an invocation has a prerequisite, you must meet it to learn that invocation. For example, if an invocation requires you to be a level 5+ Warlock, you can select the invocation once you reach Warlock level 5.

Replacing and Gaining Invocations. Whenever you gain a Warlock level, you can replace one of your invocations with another one for which you qualify. You can't replace an invocation if it's a prerequisite for another invocation that you have.

When you gain certain Warlock levels, you gain more invocations of your choice, as shown in the Invocations column of the Warlock Features table.

You can't pick the same invocation more than once unless its description says otherwise.

Pact of the Blade

As a Bonus Action, you can conjure a pact weapon in your hand - a Simple or Martial Melee weapon of your choice with which you bond - or create a bond with a magic weapon you touch; you can't bond with a magic weapon if someone else is attuned to it or another Warlock is bonded with it. Until the bond ends, you have proficiency with the weapon, and you can use it as a Spellcasting Focus.

Whenever you attack with the bonded weapon, you can use your Charisma modifier for the attack and damage rolls instead of using Strength or Dexterity; and you can cause the weapon to deal Necrotic, Psychic, or Radiant damage or its normal damage type.

Your bond with the weapon ends if you use this feature's Bonus Action again, if the weapon is more than 5 feet away from you for 1 minute or more, or if you die. A conjured weapon disappears when the bond ends.

True Strike

On a failes save, a target takes 2d6 necrotic damage and can't take reactions until its next turn. On a successful save, the creature takes half damage, but suffers no other effect.

At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 2nd level or higher, the damage increases by 1d6 for each slot above the 1st.

Soulreaper's Morningstar

Weapon (Morningstar), Rare (Requires Attunement by a Warlock)

Appearance

The Soulreaper's Morningstar is a masterful amalgamation of dark magic and medieval warfare, designed to strike terror into the hearts of those who face it. Its handle is crafted from a dense, shadowy wood that seems to absorb light, giving it an almost ethereal quality. Roughly the length of an arm, it provides the wielder with ample reach and control.

The air around the flail seems to throb with power, as if the weapon itself were alive with a malevolent will. Whispers of dark energy emanate from it, forming ghostly arcs of light that dance around the weapon in an eerie display of its connection to the otherworldly realms.

History

The creation of the morningstar was marked by rituals lost to time, performed in a hidden forge that was said to lie at the crossroads between the world of the living and the realm of the dead. The materials used in its construction were sourced from the darkest corners of the world: wood from the Tree of Woe, known to grow where no light ever shines, and metal smelted in the flames of the Underworld itself.

As the final touch, the Soulreaper's essence was bound to the weapon, granting it not only unparalleled power but also a sinister will of its own. The entity's whispers became a constant presence for each of its wielders, offering cryptic guidance and urging them towards ever darker deeds.

Legends tell of many battles and epic confrontations in which the morningstar unleashed a cataclysmic explosion of dark energy. Whenever the dust settles, only the morningstar remains on the scourges of the battlefield.

In the centuries that followed, the Soulreaper's Morningstar passed through the hands of many, always seeking a wielder with the ambition to wield its power and the will to resist its corrupting influence. Its history is a tapestry of triumph and tragedy, with each chapter written in the blood of those who dared to harness its dark might.

Magical Effects

Versatile (1d10) - Garen can wield Soulreaper's Morningstar with two hands to deal additional damage (1d10) instead of the usual 1d8.

Soulreaper's Embrace

Once per long rest, when Garen lands a critical hit against a creature, he can invoke Soulreaper's Embrace. On that attack, the morningstar deals an additional 2d6 necrotic damage, as the dark essence of the entity within courses through his strike.

Eldritch Connection

As a pact weapon, Soulreaper's Morningstar counts as a spellcasting focus for Warlock spells. Additionally, while attuned to the morningstar, he gains a +1 bonus to his Warlock spell attack rolls and spell save DC.

Personality and Influence

The morningstar carries the essence of an ancient entity known as Soulreaper. While Garen remains in control of the morningstar, the entity's whispers and presence are ever-present. It provides cryptic visions and insights into the unknown, but also seeks to nudge Garen towards darker paths. The Dwarf's willpower and sense of duty have thus far prevented Soulreaper from overtaking him, but the struggle continues.
