Mehen (Leaper) Norixius

CHARACTER NAME

37	6'5"	240lbs
AGE	HEIGHT	WEIGHT
Silver	Turquoise-Blue
EYES	SKIN	HAIR

Covered in turquoise-blue scales, Mehen Norixius radiates a sturdy but noble appearance. Nothing escapes his silvery eyes and he is always aware of his surroundings.

CHARACTER APPEARANCE

The Oath of the Ancients is as old as the race of elves and the rituals of the druids. Sometimes called fey knights, green knights, or horned knights, paladins who swear this oath cast their lot with the side of the light in the cosmic struggle against darkness because they love the beautiful and life-giving things of the world, not necessarily because they believe in principles of honor, courage, and justice. They adorn their armor and clothing with images of growing things – leaves, antlers, or flowers – to reflect their commitment to preserving life and light in the world.

NAME

Oath of the Ancients

Mehen possesses a radiant aura that surrounds him, emanating a soft, warm light. This aura serves as a symbol of his connection to the divine and the presence of the Ancients, instilling hope and calmness in those around him.

Leaper possesses mental fortitude, able to withstand psychic assaults and resist manipulative influences. His strong will and disciplined mind allow him to maintain focus, even in the face of overwhelming odds or insidious enchantments.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES & TRAITS

Mehen Norixius, known by his nickname Leaper, was born into the rare clan of Sapphire-Gem Dragonborns. From a young age, Mehen showed an affinity for the natural world, feeling a deep connection to the vibrant beauty and life that surrounded him.

Growing up within his clan, Mehen witnessed the destructive forces of darkness that threatened to extinguish the light. He watched as his people fought valiantly to protect their homeland from encroaching evils, and his resolve to bring peace and harmony to the world only grew stronger.

Guided by his inherent sense of justice and a desire to preserve the natural order, Mehen embarked on a spiritual journey. He devoted himself to the path of the Oath of the Ancients, embracing the tenets of compassion, hope, and the eternal fight against darkness.

As a paladin, Mehen became a beacon of light and unwavering determination. Clad in shimmering armor, he ventured forth into the world, seeking to restore balance and safeguard the realms from those who sought to exploit or desecrate the sacred essence of life.

Features, Magic Items and Spells

Gem Dragonborn Traits

Gem dragonborn partake of the heritage of gem dragons, who claim to be heirs of Sardior, the Ruby Dragon. The colors and mysterious powers of gem dragons amethyst, crystal, emerald, sapphire, and topaz gleam in these dragonborn's scaled skin and course through their veins. Theirs are the wonders of the mind, the force of will, the brilliant light of insight, and the resounding echo of discovery but also the desiccation of despair.

Gem Ancestry

Sapphire

You trace your ancestry to a Gem dragon, granting you a special magical affinity. Choose one type of dragon from the Gem Ancestry table. This determines the damage type for your other traits as shown in the table.

Breath Weapon

15 ft. Cone (Dexterity Saving Throw, DC = 11, Damage: 1d10 Thunder)

When you take the Attack action on your turn, you can replace one of your attacks with an exhalation of magical energy in a 15-foot cone. Each creature in that area must make a Dexterity saving throw (DC = 8 + your Constitution modifier + your proficiency bonus). On a failed save, the creature takes 1d10 damage of the type associated with your Gem Ancestry. On a successful save, it takes half as much damage. This damage increases by 1d10 when you reach 5th level (2d10), 11th level (3d10), and 17th level (4d10).

Damage Resistance

You have Resistance to the Thunder damage type associated with your Draconic ancestry.

Psionic Mind

You can telepathically speak to any creature you can see within 30 feet of you. You don't need to share a language with the creature, but the creature must be able to understand at least one language.

Gem Flight

Starting at 5th level, you can use a bonus action to manifest spectral wings on your body. These wings last for 1 minute. For the duration, you gain a flying speed equal to your walking speed and can hover. Once you use this trait, you can't do so again until you finish a long rest.

Feats

Gift of the Metallic Dragon

You've manifested some of the power of metallic dragons, granting you the following benefits:

Draconic Healing. You learn the Cure Wounds spell. You can cast this spell without expending a spell slot. Once you cast this spell in this way, you can't do so again until you finish a long rest. You can also cast this spell using spell slots you have. The spell's spellcasting ability is Intelligence, Wisdom, or Charisma when you cast it with this feat (choose when you gain the feat).

Protective Wings. You can manifest protective wings that can shield you or others. When you or another creature you can see within 5 feet of you is hit by an attack roll, you can use your reaction to manifest spectral wings from your back for a moment. You grant a bonus to the target's AC equal to your proficiency bonus against that attack roll, potentially causing it to miss. You can use this reaction a number of times equal to your proficiency bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

Great Weapon Fighting

When you roll damage for an attack you make with a Melee weapon that you are holding with two hands, you can treat any 1 or 2 on a damage die as a 3. The weapon must have the Two-Handed or Versatile property to gain this benefit.

Background

Outlander

You grew up in the wilds, far from civilization and the comforts of town and technology. You've witnessed the migration of herds larger than forests, survived weather more extreme than any city-dweller could comprehend, and enjoyed the solitude of being the only thinking creature for miles in any direction. The wilds are in your blood, whether you were a nomad, an explorer, a recluse, a hunter-gatherer, or even a marauder. Even in places where you don't know the specific features of the terrain, you know the ways of the wild.

Feature: Wanderer

You have an excellent memory for maps and geography, and you can always recall the general layout of terrain, settlements, and other features around you. In addition, you can find food and fresh water for yourself and up to five other people each day, provided that the land offers berries, small game, water, and so forth.

Paladin

Lay on Hands

(Healing Pool: 15)

Your blessed touch can heal wounds. You have a pool of healing power that replenishes when you finish a Long Rest. With that pool, you can restore a total number of Hit Points equal to five times your Paladin level.

As a Bonus Action, you can touch a creature (which could be yourself) and draw power from the pool of healing to restore a number of Hit Points to that creature, up to the maximum amount remaining in the pool.

You can also expend 5 Hit Points from the pool of healing power to remove the Poisoned condition from the creature; those points don't also restore Hit Points to the creature.

Fighting Style

Great Weapon Fighting

You gain a Fighting Style feat of your choice. Instead of choosing one of those feats, you can choose the option below.

Blessed Warrior. You learn two Cleric cantrips of your choice. Guidance and Sacred Flame are recommended. The chosen cantrips count as Paladin spells for you, and Charisma is your spellcasting ability for them. Whenever you gain a Paladin level, you can replace one of these cantrips with another Cleric cantrip.

Paladin's Smite

You always have the Divine Smite spell prepared. In addition, you can cast it without expending a spell slot, but you must finish a Long Rest before you can cast it in this way again.

Channel Divinity

2 Uses

You can channel divine energy directly from the Outer Planes, using it to fuel magical effects. You start with one such effect: Divine Sense, which is described below. Other Paladin features give additional Channel Divinity effect options. Each time you use this class's Channel Divinity, you choose which effect from this class to create.

You can use this class's Channel Divinity twice. You regain one of its expended uses when you finish a Short Rest, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Long Rest. You gain an additional use when you reach Paladin level 11.

If a Channel Divinity effect requires a saving throw, the DC equals the spell save DC from this class's Spellcasting feature.

Divine Sense

As a Bonus Action, you can open your awareness to detect Celestials, Fiends, and Undead. For the next 10 minutes or until you have the Incapacitated condition, you know the location of any creature of those types within 60 feet of yourself, and you know its creature type. Within the same radius, you also detect the presence of any place or object that has been consecrated or desecrated, as with the Hallow spell.

Oath of the Ancients Spells

The magic of your oath ensures you always have certain spells ready; when you reach a Paladin level specified in the Oath of the Ancients Spells table, you thereafter always have the listed spells prepared.

Oath of the Ancients Spells

	Paladin Level	Spells
•	3rd	Ensnaring Strike, Speak with Animals
	5th	Misty Step, Moonbeam
	9th	Plant Growth, Protection from Energy
	13th	Ice Storm, Stoneskin
	17th	Commune with Nature, Tree Stride

Nature's Wrath

As a Magic action, you can expend one use of your Channel Divinity to conjure spectral vines around nearby creatures. Each creature of your choice that you can see within 15 feet of yourself must succeed on a Strength saving throw or have the Restrained condition for 1 minute. A Restrained creature repeats the save at the end of each of its turns, ending the effect on itself on a success.

Magical Items

Spear of the Green

Weapon (Spear), Legendary (Requires Attunement by a Paladin)

Appearance

The Spear of the Green is a remarkable weapon, exuding an ancient and mystical aura. Its shaft is crafted from a rare, dark wood that seems to absorb the light around it, giving the weapon an almost ethereal quality. The wood is smooth and cool to the touch, inlaid with intricate silver filigree that spirals up towards the spearhead. This filigree work is delicate and seems to depict a variety of forest scenes, with leaves, vines, and the occasional small animal hidden within its design.

At the spear's head, the metal is unlike any other; it gleams with a soft, greenish hue that suggests it was forged not from iron or steel but from some magical mineral. The spearhead itself is leaf-shaped, broad and thin, honed to a razor's edge on both sides. It seems to shimmer slightly in the light, as if it were not entirely solid, giving the impression of a blade made from condensed forest mist.

History

The Spear of the Green is shrouded in legends that trace back to the earliest days of the world, when magic flowed freely and the boundary between the earthly and the ethereal was thin. It is said to have been crafted by the ancient Druids, guardians of nature, who sought to create a weapon that could protect the balance of life. Forged in a ritual that harnessed the essence of the primordial forest, the spear was imbued with the strength of ancient trees and the wisdom of the earth itself.

Throughout the ages, the Spear of the Green has been wielded by heroes chosen for their pure hearts and unwavering dedication to the natural world. It played pivotal roles in battles that are now the stuff of legend, always appearing at times when the balance between nature and civilization was threatened.

The spear's last known bearer was a ranger named Elarion, who vanished into the mists of the Enchanted Forest centuries ago, defending the realms against a darkness that sought to engulf the world. Since then, the Spear of the Green has been lost to myth, waiting for a new champion to claim its power and continue the eternal vigil over the natural order.

Magic

You gain a +1 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this magic weapon. When you cast a paladin spell with a target of Self, you can't lose concentration on the spell from taking damage. This bonus increases to +2 at level 10 and +3 at level 17.

While you hold the drawn spear, it creates an aura in a 10-foot radius around you. Creatures of your choice in that aura gain resistance to poison damage and have advantage on saving throws against the poisoned condition. If you have 17 or more levels in the paladin class, the radius of the aura increases to 30 feet.

Celestial Aegis

Shield, Uncommon (Requires Attunement)

Appearance

The "Celestial Aegis" shield exudes an aura of divine protection and ethereal beauty. Crafted from a rare, resilient metal, its surface is polished to a mirror-like sheen, reflecting a myriad of colors that seem to shift with the viewer's perspective. The metal has an otherworldly glow, subtly pulsating with light, hinting at the celestial energy infused within.

The shield's design is both intricate and symbolic, featuring motifs of celestial bodiesstars, moons, and cometsthat swirl around a central emblem: a radiant eye, representing wisdom and vigilance. This emblem is not merely decorative; it seems to gaze into the very soul of those who meet its stare, imbued with a protective magic that repels malevolence.

Around the edge, the metalwork intricately weaves into patterns reminiscent of wings, suggesting the shield's ability to guard and elevate its bearer above common strife. The glow from the shield casts a soft, protective light around it, creating an aura that feels both comforting and empowering. Holding it, one would feel a sense of heightened awareness and readiness, as if the shield itself is attuned to impending dangers, granting its wielder an advantage in foresight and perception.

History

The Celestial Aegis was forged during the zenith of the Age of Heroes, a time when celestial beings often walked the lands of mortals, guiding and protecting them against the encroaching darkness. Its creation was commissioned by a conclave of high priests and celestial warlocks, who sought to embody the divine protection of the heavens in a form that could be wielded by mortals.

The metal used in the shield's construction was sourced from a fallen star, discovered in the crater of a sacred mountain. This rare metal, known for its resilience and its natural affinity for divine magic, was smelted and blessed in a ritual that lasted seven days and seven nights, under the light of a full moon. The celestial beings themselves lent their power to the ritual, infusing the shield with a fragment of their divine essence. This granted the Celestial Aegis its ethereal glow and the ability to repel malevolent forces.

Over the centuries, the Celestial Aegis has been wielded by various heroes and champions chosen by the heavens. Each bearer has left their mark on history, using the shield to turn the tide of many battles against the forces of darkness. Legends tell of the shield's protective aura shielding entire armies from harm, and its glow guiding lost travelers through the darkest nights.

However, the Celestial Aegis is not just an instrument of war; it is a symbol of hope, a reminder of the celestial beings' watchful presence over the world. Its last known bearer was a paladin named Sir Alaric, who vanished while on a quest to seal a rift between the mortal world and the Abyss. The shield's whereabouts have since become a mystery, fueling countless expeditions and tales of adventure among those who seek to wield its divine power once more.

Magic

While holding this shield, you have advantage on Initiative rolls and Wisdom (Perception) checks.
